The Language Explorer Study Participant Information Sheet for Children ages 4-5

Please read this with your mummy or daddy or someone else who cares for you

We made a game to help us learn about children's talking and listening.

Now we are trying out the game.

Would you like to help us?

It is fine to say yes or no.

YES

OK, that is great!

The next page shows what will happen.

NO

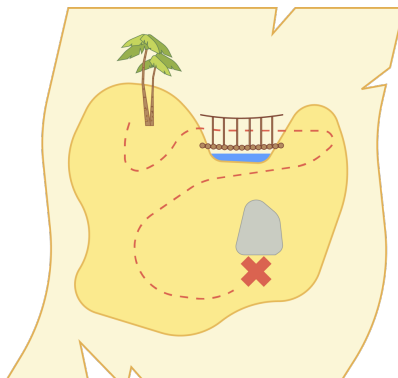

No problem!

Thank you.

What will happen?

[IMAGE OF RELEVANT SLT CLINIC TO BE INSERTED HERE]

You will visit a Speech and Language Therapist with your mummy or daddy or someone else who cares for you.

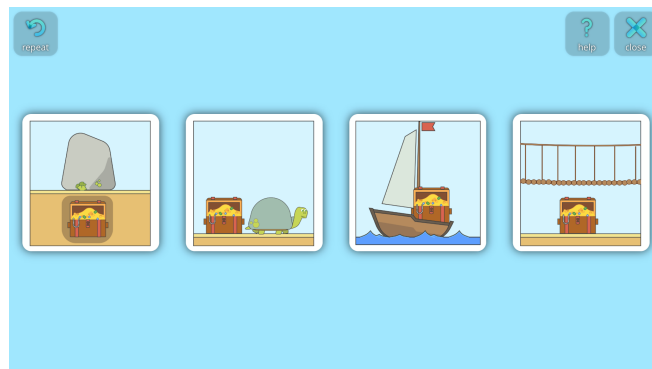

You will listen to a story about a treasure hunt.

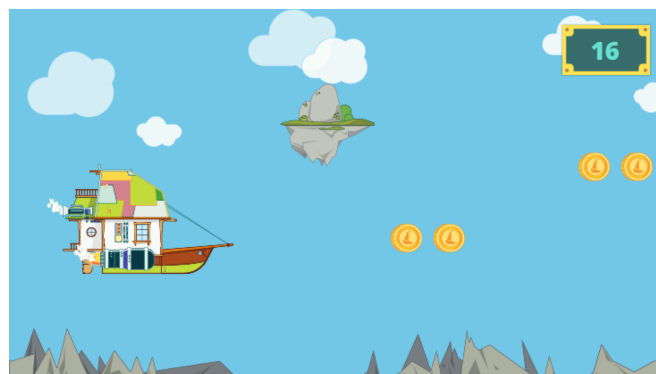

Next, you will tell the story in your own words.

We will ask you questions about the story.

You will play some different talking games.

At the end you can play a game to collect treasure coins.

Don't crash into the rocks!

How long will the visit take?

You will be playing the talking games for about one hour.

You can stop the games at any time.

Do you have any questions?

You can ask your mummy or daddy, or someone else who cares for you. They can tell you more about what will happen.

They can call us to ask any questions.
