[Practice name] is contacting you as our records show you have served in the UK Armed Forces. The University of Exeter is running the Veteran Connection Programme, a research study about life after service, built around a one-day group workshop. Travel expenses are covered and participants receive up to £150 to thank them for their time. Taking part is your choice and will not affect your care. Your details have not been shared with the research team. Find out more and register your interest:[link]. Reply STOP for no further messages.
